LAY CAMPAIGN PLANS AT SPECIAL MEETING

DIVIDE STATE INTO SIXTEEN DISTRICTS

Students to Take Important Part in Winning Support of Voters.

Campaign plans for the bond issue and the special tax levy were laid at a meeting of the state educational heads at the School of Mines in Butte Saturday. Acting President F. C. Scheuch, Professors Freeman Daughters, Maurice Dietrich, M. J. Elrod, T. C. Spaulding, M. J. Lennes and C. W. Leapheart from the University attended the conference.

The state has been divided into 16 districts with a committeeman over each. The conference was to formulate plans by which these committeemen shall carry on the campaign in their district. Each county also is under the direction of a committeeman who will circulate petitions to be signed by the voters in his county. Before these petitions are circulated, however, mimeographed letters will be given to every student in the Greater University of Montana, and in all schools in the state that will profit by the $5,000,000 bond issue to send to their homes so that every voter who can possibly be reached will be fully informed upon the subject.

Campaign literature will be circulated among the students during the campaign which will start about March 20 and end about April 20.

The alumnae of the School of Mines have given $5 each and a number of the students have also contributed.

FINAL PLANS FOR 1920 YEAR BOOK COMPLETED

Instructions Regarding Sales and Campus Organizations Given Out.

The final detailed plans of the 1920 Sentinel were laid out at a meeting of the Sentinel staff, held last Wednesday.

Campus organizations who wish pages in the book must appoint a representative to confer with the business manager, Eck Mosby, before Wednesday, March 10, and all written matter or snapshot pages must be handed in before March 15, according to plans. A call is made by the Sentinel staff for snapshots of all descriptions, jokes, either new or old and any known campus scandal.

The staff states that the sales on the books have been very slow. Eight more days are left in which to buy the Sentinels, during which time the freshmen will have charge of the sales. According to the management, the price of $3.00 is below the cost of getting the book out. A sales table will be placed for one day in each of the buildings on the campus. This arrangement will make it possible for students to buy their books on the way to their classes. The sale stands will be placed as follows:

CAPTAIN-ELECT SULLIVAN

The scrappiest guard that ever defended a Montana basket. Steve's hard consistent playing has made his work on the basketball court an invaluable asset to the strength of the Grizzly quint. This is Sullivan's second year as a varsity basketball man. With a wealth of material available for next year, Sullivan will undoubtedly have the honor of leading one of the fastest quints that has ever represented the University.

RETIRING CAPTAIN LARKIN

This year completes "Gussie" Larkin's third season as a member of the Grizzly basketball team. Larkin was one of the two letter men in basketball available this year, and his flashy, brilliant playing in the forward position has made him a dangerous man for the opposition. "Gussie" led the Bruin quint in the number of field baskets scored this season, and he has proved to be a consistent point getter from the 15-foot line. Larkin will be in uniform again next year.

AMERICA LACKS ART SAYS LORADO TAFT

NEED MORE NATIONAL WORKS OF MERIT

Sculptor Reviews Best Examples of Present Day Statuary.

"The most lovely thing in the world, I think, is to find early the thing that is most interesting to you, that for which you are fitted, and then to work out your ideals," said Lorado Taft, one of America's leading sculptors, in his lecture on "American Sculpture and Sculptors" in the University auditorium last night. Professor Frederick D. Schwalm introduced Mr. Taft, "the author as well as the artist," to a hall well-filled with town and University people.

The speaker deplored American lack of appreciation of art, which he believes is responsible for the comparative scarcity of national works of real merit. "Our forefathers," he said, "came here to get away from art—art as expressed to them in the idolatry of the church. And we have suffered for these."

Stereopticon slides of early works and sculptors were discussed by Mr. Taft to illustrate the history of our national art. Equestrian and Indian figures were predominant. The artist calls the Lincoln statue in Lincoln park, Chicago, "the finest portrait in America; a striking combination of strength and tenderness." It is the work of Augustus St. Gaudens who, though Irish-born, is "the greatest of all our sculptors." Another of St. Gaudens' notable figures is his statue of Farragut, placed in Madison square, New York.

SEC. CONSUMERS' LEAGUE SPEAKER AT NEXT CON.

Miss Florence Kelley to Talk on Wages and National Morality.

Florence Kelley, secretary of the National Consumers' League, has been scheduled to speak at 10 o'clock convocation Friday, March 12th.

According to Professor H. G. Merriam Miss Kelley is one of the six foremost women of the United States and is a wonderful talker. A great deal of the child labor program which has been carried out recently through the country has been conducted under her leadership, and at present she is delivering a series of lectures in different cities on "Wages" and "H. C. L." Her topics Friday will be "Wages" and "Our National Morality."

Miss Kelley is also an author of some note, having published a book known as "Our Modern Industries" in 1913. She is perhaps best known through her work on the Consumers' league, an organization which has, among other duties, the work of putting out women's garments. Every article made under its direction bears a Consumers' League tag, certifying that it is made by girls who have good living conditions and who have been paid sufficient wages.

Loss of Many Towels Occasions New Order

Owing to the great loss of towels since the beginning of the school year, towel-service has been discontinued for men using gym showers.

In a notice posted Saturday afternoon W. E. Schreiber, director of physical education, disclosed the fact that over a hundred towels have been taken from the gymnasium. They were issued for the last time Saturday afternoon and only then under condition that each may be personally responsible in seeing that his towel was returned to the supply room adjoining Dr. Schreiber's office.

"Hereafter the towels are for the athletes only," says Director Schreiber.

SPECIAL SPANISH CLASS

MONTANA-IDAHO-UTAH MEET IN SIX DEBATES

Montana Will Debate Idaho Here and on Same Night Send Team to Salt Lake, Utah.

A triangular debate will take place between Montana, Idaho, and Utah on Friday, April 16. The question will be "Resolved, That Congress should enact a compulsory arbitration law for settling labor disputes that are connected with public utilities."

On this night an affirmative team, comprised of William H. Higanbotham and J. A. Farmer will debate Idaho in the University auditorium. A negative team will be sent to debate Utah. George Witter and Paul Smith will be the University representatives. Witter will take Coffee's place, who debated W. S. C. and thus forfeited his place on the triangular debate. Utah will debate Idaho. In each case the affirmative team remains at home.

Idaho recently defeated W. S. C. on a different question than will be debated at this time. The same men that defeated Montana, however, were on the team. But the well-fought battle that Montana put up against W. S. C. in spite of the judges' decision gives a great deal of satisfaction as to the result of the Montana-Idaho debate.

The quality of the Utah team is not yet known.

DR. UNDERWOOD RESENTS ACCUSING STATEMENTS

Assertion That Truth Endangers Faculty Positions Denied by Professor.

The statement made by Robert Burns Martin, who in conjunction with B. K. Wheeler, formerly United States district attorney, spoke to Missoula people Sunday night in Union hall, relative to the fact that no instructor in the University could tell the truth and hold his position very long, was emphatically denied by Dr. J. H. Underwood before members of his sociology class yesterday. Dr. Underwood will prepare a letter to Mr. Wheeler, showing wherein the statement was without truth or foundation.

Dr. Underwood expressed to members of his class his belief that instructors in the University had never been compelled to curb their speech in order that they might still retain their place on the University faculty. The statements uttered in the Sunday meeting were made without the proper facts and knowledge to substantiate them.

Martin, to whom is attributed most of the alleged statements regarding the University, is recognized as one of the leading Non-partisan League organizers in the state.

Groups Must Report Early Says Manager

Pat Keeley, manager of the Varsity Vaudeville, wishes to announce that all organizations who have not had their final tryouts, report to him at once. The management is anxious to make final arrangements in regard to the program and to make plans for the advertising. Several single acts, to be used during the intermissions, are wanted to round out the program. The vaudeville, which is to be staged in the Liberty theater, will be handled on the percentage basis. The price of admission has not been decided as yet.

WEEK END VISITORS

MUST REGISTER EARLY TO AVOID PENALTY FEE

Because of the failure to get the schedules out registration started Tuesday, instead of Monday, as had been announced. About the same number of students who registered last quarter are expected for the spring term.

Registration must be completed before Thursday, March 18, at noon. Application to register may be found in the hall of the main building and should be filled out before going to the registrar's office. J. B. Speer, registrar, advises that students register early to avoid paying the late registration fee of $2.

TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 1920.

MAIN HALL

The University and Missoula has been extremely fortunate in being able to hear a first-hand message from Lorado Taft. Visits from such men are rare in Missoula. They always carry a message both profitable and inspiring to those who have the opportunity of being a listener.

However pleased Mr. Taft may have been with the visit here, we imagine there were a few things which jolted his artistic sense a trifle. Having the careful, observing nature which we credit to all exponents of art, the gaudy array of placards which greet the eye upon entering Main hall must have come to his notice. Main hall, where the student body comes and goes, the one building which the visitor always sees, is daily becoming more like a signboard than a hall of learning. It is being littered with flashy signs, announcing pink teas, dances, etc., until we wonder whether anything is being given in the University which makes attendance worth while and essential in the obtaining of an education.

ENGLISH 33 TO PRESENT THREE PLAYS MARCH 12

Dramas Popularized by Greenwich Village Players Will Be Acted.

English 33 offers a program of three one-act plays under the direction of Professor H. G. Merriam, head of the English department, to be staged on Friday evening, March 12. The performances will take place in the University auditorium and will be thrown open to the public, the curtain rising at 8:20.

The plays consist of "The Three Strangers," a dramatization of the story by Thomas Hardy of the same name, "The Clod," by Lewis Beach, and "Overtones," by Alice Gerstenberg. Both "The Clod" and "Overtones" are Washington Square plays, originally produced and acted by the Greenwich village players. They met with such success that they were later produced in vaudeville and ran for several seasons.

The cast of each play has been rehearsing for several weeks and has been carefully selected by try-outs. Mr. Merriam is coaching the production and the different groups receive separate attention by members of the class who take charge under his direction. Ann Reely is stage manager of "The Three Strangers," Grace Barnett of "Overtones" and Helen Little of "The Clod."

The settings for the three plays are entirely different. The action of "The Three Strangers" takes place in a shepherd's cottage on the "coombs" in a rugged portion of England. "Overtones," on the other hand, is laid in a fashionable ladies' drawing room, while "The Clod" has for its background a hut owned by "poor white trash" of the time of the Civil war. These plays have been selected by the class itself, and the members have striven for variety in program as well as artistic merit.

The casts are as follows:

Sneak Day Has Been a Tradition on the Campus Nine Years

Sneak day has become a tradition in the University. It is the one day in the year upon which students may remain away from their classes and not receive cuts.

In 1911 the state legislature made some appropriations for the University, and when the news of these appropriations came to the campus the faculty declared a holiday. Sneak day was not observed the following year. In 1913, however, there was another appropriation made and the students declared a holiday. The custom has continued up to the present time.

In 1915 and 1916 Sneak day was declared the day following a big football victory. In 1917 and 1918 Sneak day was also in the fall, although the original time for Sneak day is sometime in the spring. On Sneak day in 1918 students went to their first classes as usual. The University band began to play in front of University hall and the tower bell began to ring. Students left their class rooms and assembled in front of University hall. President F. C. Scheuch gave a short talk and several of the students spoke. The crowd then went to the football field where a game was played between the freshman and sophomore teams.

VARSITY LOSES DEBATE BY UNANIMOUS VERDICT

Montana University lost to Washington State College by a unanimous decision of the judges in the debate held in Pullman last Friday night.

Matt Pearce and Oakley Coffee represented Montana on the affirmative and Cook and Funk represent W. S. C. on the negative. The question was the adoption of the Plumb plan for railroads. The feature of the evening, according to E. L. Freeman, debate coach, who accompanied the team, was the rebuttal offered by Pearce.

Delta Gamma entertained Sunday afternoon with an open house.

Millionaires who take in Roomers!

PLAIN, simple country folk down in Texas went to bed one night as poor as the proverbial church mice and awoke to find themselves millionaires! But they cannot accustom themselves to their new prosperity, and they do the most extraordinary things imaginable with their newly acquired wealth. Old Jake Wells went right out and bought himself $4.80 worth of bananas, ate them, and then just naturally died.

Mrs. Snodgrass, wife of the village doctor (who doesn't know how rich she is), built a large wing on the old homestead so she could take in more roomers!

Another old lady—whose profits quickly passed the million mark—bought "paw" a new ax so he could cut the kindling more easily. And the surprising thing about it all is that it's true.

When a financier's wife pawns her jewels

You won't know until the end of the story why she did it.

But when the pretty young wife of a feeble old millionaire is seen to frequent a pawnbroker's, and then enter a cheap lodging-house, being watched by a good-looking detective—well, there's enough mystery, love, action and high finance in this unusual story to satisfy anybody.

"Her Secret"—by Will Payne—is the first of a series of adventures by Ben Bodet, business detective, who—we prophesy—is going to take rank as one of the most interesting sleuths of fiction.

Is parent-love a menace?

Great men almost invariably have had unusual mothers or fathers who played a conspicuous part in shaping their lives. And yet, eminent psychologists tell us that the pampering love of parent for child—unless wisely directed—can do tremendous harm.

Harvey O'Higgins has interviewed one of the greatest nerve-specialists in America on this vital problem.

Nothing more amazing and dramatic has been written about human relationships than "The Love-Image," in the new Cosmopolitan.

BRUINS LOSE FRIDAY TO MUSCOVITE QUINT

DEFEATED IN LAST MINUTE OF GAME

Fox, Idaho Star, by Stellar Basket Shooting, Wins 23-20 Contest.

By dropping in four baskets from the middle of the floor during the last few minutes of play, Fox, Idaho star forward, overcame the Bruin's lead and won Friday night's game for his team by the score of 23 to 20. The game was as fast and as exciting as the game Thursday night, which was won by the Grizzlies, 28 to 26.

The Montana quintet led their rivals by a few points throughout the greater part of the game. It was only during the last minute that the Muscovites forged ahead. At the end of the first half the score stood 14 to 11 in Montana's favor. The contest was featured by the rooting of University students, who crowded the gymnasium.

For the locals, Larkin, Sullivan and Ahern starred, while Fox played by far the most brilliant game for Idaho. He was the only one of the visitors who seemed to be able to connect with the basket in a contest in which most of the baskets were shot from near the middle of the floor.

The box score follows:
Left Forward

Larkin	Right Forward	Evans
Adams	Center	Fox
Ahern	Right Guard	Campbell

Sullivan
 Carder |

Substitutions—Idaho; Perrine for Evans; Cozier for Carder.

Field baskets—Idaho; Fox 4; Perrine, 4; Evans, 1; and Campbell 1. Montana: Larkin, 3; Ahern, 2, and Sullivan, 2.

Free Throws—Idaho; Fox, 3 of 7. Montana: Larkin, 6 of 8.
Officials—Referee. Varnal; umpire, Stookey; and Turner, timekeeper.

Montana beat Idaho in the first game Thursday night. That was a game superb. The kind you read about in the fraternity scrap book. Score tied at the end of a game—then the extra five minutes, in which both sides drop 'em in and the varsity gets the extra basket.

And the bell—it was something like that that gave old friend E. A. Poe an idea for his tintinabulation poem.

But the kind Goddess Fortuna was with Miss Ida Hough the next night. The Grizzlies were ahead until the last two minutes. Five minutes before the final whistle the score was 20-15. Then the fair goddess turned us down and adopted the visiting quint. We must say she took as good care of the mas if she was their mother.

But we kept out of the cellar berth:

A cellar is a nice thing to be in these days, but when it's a team's percentage, it's a nice thing to be out of.

The men from Idaho are a fine bunch of sportsmen and the kind of fellows that put intercollegiate competition on a little more than athletic basis.

"In spring a young man's fancy turns," some fanatics have been turning so often we don't blame some of the fellows for acting dizzy.

The campus oval is beginning to be a merry-go-round.

The Sun Dodger, a monthly humor magazine of the University of Washington, is being recognized in the humor magazines of the country. Every week Life and Judge clip a few sparks from Sunny. We like to see the West getting by. Rox Reynolds, a former student at Montana, is the editor. Reynolds was editor of the Sentinel in 1918, and a column conductor for The Kaimin.

Baseball sharks and diamond dubs are out every night tossing the pill. From the material out for practice the Grizzlies should make 'em all look like black lot performers.

Steve Sullivan was elected captain of the basketball team for next year. Sullivan is an all around athlete and can be counted upon for star performance in any of them. His work in the fighting Irishman is in the game all guard position on the quint was of high intercollegiate caliber. The fighting Irishman is in the game all the time hitting 'em hard and clean. Nothing but success for the next year's captain and team.

Gussie Larkin, captain of this year's five is deserving of the compliments of the entire University. Through various changes in the personnel of the squad that had a tendency to weaken the team work of the quint, Gussie was able to keep a team that won. He himself was the high scorer for the year and his work on the floor was one of the big things in any of the games of the varsity. Good work, Gussie, good work.

Ronnie Ahern, the lanky sophomore forward and center, was a good running mate for Gussie. We expect big things from him again next year, only bigger.

John Shaffer, a big guy from Miles City, and holder of the interscholastic discus record, has left school and will not be back for the track work. He

SULLIVAN ELECTED BASKETBALL PILOT

UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF HIS TEAMMATES

Fighting Guard's Second Year as Member of Grizzly Quint.

Steven Sullivan was unanimously elected captain of the 1921 basketball team by the letter winners of this year Friday night, after the second game with the University of Idaho. Captain Larkin, forward; captain-elect Sullivan, guard; Ahern, center, and Walterskirchen, guard, the four winners of letters this year, chose Sullivan as the next basketball pilot.

Sullivan, as a freshman, played on Earnest Prescott's state championship quint in 1918. He was not in the University last year. This season he has been a stellar performer at all times on Coach Bierman's squad.

Sullivan is an all around athlete, good for three letters every year. He is one of the fastest halfbacks ever seen in action on Montana field, and played in that position on the state championship football teams in 1917 and 1918.

This year will be Sullivan's first season on the Varsity track squad, but his interscholastic record with Butte high school is such that there is little as to his ability on the cinder path.

Sullivan is a sophomore in the school of business administration.

is expected back next fall and it's a cinch the football squad will be glad to see him.

Track athletes are out on the cinders and on the cork. Montana should be able to run circles around her opponents in this issue. Watch 'em go.

Some of the fastest men in the University are not out for track.

Nobody has issued a writ of injunction against column writers, so I guess I can quit now if I want to.

Rev. Father W. M. O'Maley of Polson will speak on "Communism" at the C. S. A. meeting Tuesday night in Room 17 in University hall.

INSIGNIA FOR BAND NOT AUTHORIZED BY A. S. U. M.

Emblem Adopted by Members Never Generally Accepted as Symbol.

An official emblem, as insignia of the University band has never been authorized by the A. S. U. M., according to Joe Townsend, president of the A. S. U. M., and Mac Gault, president of the senior class.

In a discussion of the subject the two men said that until this year there has never been attention paid to the symbols worn by the University musicians. However, this has in no way prevented members of the band from adopting a symbol by the vote of their organization. In such a case the insignia are paid for by students of the organization.

If the awarding of a chosen emblem was placed before the A. S. U. M. and favorably passed upon by that body, henceforth the emblem would be presented in the same way as the award for debate, oratory and athletics.

The emblem chosen and worn by the members of this and former bands is a golden M set in lyre of silver.

GRIZZLY QUINTET ENDS STRENUOUS HOOP SEASON

Bierman's Warriors Engage in 16 Games and Prove Victors in Seven.

Coach Bierman's quint completed a strenuous basketball schedule last Friday night, having played 16 games. Seven contests were won and nine lost.

The Grizzly team ranks second in Montana and sixth in the Northwest conference.

The loss of star players at various times during the season proved a handicap, but Coach Bierman welded from his consistent trainers a squad in the final games of the season, outplaying the runners-up of the Northwestern conference. The team Coach Bierman sent on the floor for the Idaho games last week put up the best exhibition of the hoop game played by the Grizzly squad this season. And there was unison and co-operation among the players, dissension was not there.

The outlook for the 1921 team is rosy. None of this year's players will be lost by graduation. Captain Larkin and Adams are juniors, while Captain-elect Sullivan, Ahern, Walterskirchen and Joy are sophomores. Straw and Olsen are freshmen who were eligible this season, because of a conference ruling that allows service men exemption from residence requirements for college teams. Neil McKain, star center, may be back in school next season. Baird, Elliott, Murphy, McGowan, Kirshner, Westby, Hooper, Harper and Porter of the Cub squad will push some of the letter men for positions on the 1921 team.

Had Montana won the second Idaho game, which was lost in the last minute of play, the Grizzlies would now be tied with O. A. C. for fifth place in conference standing, with a percentage of .333. At present the Northwestern conference ranks as follows: Whitman, University of Idaho, University of Oregon, Washington State college, Oregon Agricultural college, Montana State university, Willamette. Montana won one and lost five, Willamette won one and lost 10. The conference season ends this week with games between Washington State and Whitman.

INTERFRATERNITY WILL BE AT UNION SATURDAY

The annual interfraternity ball will be held Saturday, March 13, in Union hall at 9 o'clock.

It will be a formal dance, but because a man has not a dress suit does not mean that he can not come, says Andy Boyd, chairman of the committee in charge of the dance.

Electrical decorations are planned with intermittent lights featuring the insignia of the fraternities, sororities and of the University. Certain sections of the hall will be devoted to the different fraternities and will be decorated in their colors.

The dance programs are in the shape of a skull. The price of admission for all active members and alumni will be $1. Men belonging to fraternities not represented on the campus by active chapters are invited, according to Mr. Boyd.

All faculty members belonging to Greek letter social organizations will act as chaperons.

Frazier and a piece by Nellie Wagner of "Mary and the Christ Child" were featured in his lecture, the latter of which ended his exhibition.

"I have given you a glimpse of what has been done in America," he concluded. A great many people have found happiness in pursuing this profession. By an application of it you can make your town more interesting."

Mr. Taft's idea of civic improvement was detailed in his morning talk on "Beauty in the Home Town," given before a convocation of students and faculty.

"Not money, but the life of a community provides its real wealth," was his theme. The artist advocates parks, art galleries and community houses to make the home town lovable and he believes that these will be effected by University graduates. He also mentioned, recent improvements in the little town of Oregon, Illinois, including a soldier monument of his own design and his 48-foot concrete Indian, "Blackhawk," set against a cliff near the town.

Mr. Taft was guest of honor at a luncheon given by Delta Phi Delta and the Art League in Simpkin's hall, at a public reception held by the art section of the Missoula Women's club at the home of Mrs. G. F. Peterson, 817 Gerald avenue, and at an informal author's club dinner in the Florence hotel. He goes from here to Moscow, Idaho, and thence to other western universities.

Joe Dunham of the Missoula county high school opened the evening's entertainment with a piano solo.
